

7th China-Brazil Innovation Seminar The Chinese Economy Today

Conference Program

2021.9.27

Program

Monday, Sep 27, 2021
8:30 - 8:32 (BRT)	Welcome Talk on behalf of CEBRI Marcos Caramuru
8:32 - 8:34 (BRT)	Introduction José Mário
8:34 - 8:37 (BRT)	Comments and Introduction Dr. LIU Weichen School of Public Policy and Management of Tsinghua University
8:37 - 8:38 (BRT)	Panelist Introduction and Welcome José Mário
8:38 - 9:08 (BRT)	The Prospects and Challenges of Financial Support for Real Economy during the 14th Five-Year Plan Period. Prof. YU Qiao School of Public Policy and Management of Tsinghua University
9:08 - 9:10 (BRT)	Comments/Panelist Introduction and Welcome José Mário
9:10 - 9:40 (BRT)	New Pattern of the Economic Development and Reform of China. Prof. GAO Yuning School of Public Policy and Management of Tsinghua University
9:40 - 10:05 (BRT)	Discussion
10:05 (BRT)	Closing José Mário

List of Speakers and Participants

NO	Name	Institution	Title
China
1	YU Qiao	School of Public Policy and Management of Tsinghua University	Professor
2	GAO Yuning	School of Public Policy and Management of Tsinghua University	Associate Professor
3	LIU Weichen	China Institute for Science and Technology Policy at Tsinghua University	Assistant Researcher
Brazil
1	CARAMURU Marcos	Member of the International Advisory Board of the Brazilian Center for International Relations (CEBRI)	Member of the International Advisory Board
2	ANTUNES Jose	Brazilian São Paulo State Trade and Investment Representative Office in China	Chief Representative

Speaker Introduction

YU Qiao

Mr. Qiao Yu is professor of economics and director of Center for Public Economy , Finance and Governance in the School of Public Policy & Management at Tsinghua University. Previously he was Citibank professor and head in the Department of Finance of the School of Management at Fudan University. He taught at the University of Canterbury and National University of Singapore in the 1990s. Mr Yu received BA (1982) from Sichuan University in China, and MA (1985) and Ph.D. (1990) at Michigan State University. His current research interests include monetary policy and financial market in China, systemic risk and financial crisis, international monetary system, and ICT technology and healthcare insurance system.

He has published many peer-refereed articles in academic journals, including Journal of Bank and Finance, Journal of International Money and Finance, Journal of Comparative Economics, Review of Financial Economics, Global Finance Journal, Journal of International Financial Markets, Institutions & Money, Contemporary Economic Policy, Mathematics and Computers in Simulation, Journal of Peace Research, Economic Systems, Journal of Economics and Finance, Pacific Basin Finance Journal, China Economic Review, Singapore Economic Review. He also published many research articles in leading Chinese academic journals. He is an author and co-author of books. His current books include Study of Big Volatility in China's Capital Market, China's Foreign Reserve and Global Direct Investment, and Fiscal Transparency Report of Chinese City Governments. Besides, he contributed op-ed pieces to English newspapers like Wall Street Journal, Financial Times, and New York Times. And

	he has also contributed background reports of G20 Think-tank for G20 summit meetings in recent years.
GAO Yuning 	Dr. GAO Yuning is associate professor at School of Public Policy and Management, Tsinghua University. He also serves as honorary associate professor at University College of London. Before that, he serviced as research associate at University of Cambridge, where he was award PhD in Economics. His main research fields include international development, international economics and finance. He also serves as the vice-president of Chinese Economics Association UK/ Europe. He is the author of Renminbi Internationalization: Economic Forecasting and Policy Scenarios Analysis and China as the Workshop of the World.
LIU Weichen 	Weichen Liu holds a Bachelor of Management, a Master of Science and a Doctor of Management. She was an Asia fellow at Rajawali Foundation Institute for Asia Fellow at John F. Kennedy School of Government, Harvard University from 2017 to 2018. Currently, she is a postdoctoral fellow at the China Institute for Science and Technology Policy at Tsinghua University, and an assistant researcher at the Institute for AI International Governance of Tsinghua University. Her main research interests include science and technology policy, science of science and innovation economics. She currently focuses on global scientific mobility and scientific productivity, enterprise basic research, knowledge diffusion and other related fields.

CARAMURU Marcos

Member of the International Advisory Board of the Brazilian Center for International Relations (CEBRI). Former Ambassador of Brazil to the People's Republic of China. He was a partner and manager at KEMU Consultoria, Consul General in Shanghai, Ambassador of Brazil to Malaysia, President of the Financial Activities Control Council (Coaf), Secretary of International Affairs at the Ministry of Finance and Executive Director of the World Bank. Ambassador Caramuru has a degree from the Rio Branco Institute (IRBr) and a degree in Administration from the Federal University of Rio de Janeiro (UFRJ).

ANTUNES Jose

Chief Operating Officer at Invest São Paulo, Shanghai, since 2019, ANTUNES José has accumulated more than 10 years of expertise in the development of Brazil-China trade relations.

ANTUNES José holds a bachelor degree in Civil Engineering from Escola de Engenharia Mauá, São Paulo, a master's degree in Public Policy and International Development from Tsinghua University-SPPM, Beijing, China, as well as MBA from FGV-EAESP, in São Paulo, Brazil, with one year extension at Indiana University, in the USA.